

3D/4D ULTRASOUND

At 4D Prenatal Imaging, we offer expecting moms an opportunity to view their unborn baby by using the latest ultrasound technology. This area of exploration has been revolutionized with the development of three dimensional scans and even more remarkably 3D scans which move in real time known as 4D scans.

How images are produced
Ultrasound pictures are produced by sending sound waves into the body of the mother. The reflected waves are collected to produce an internal image similar to an X-ray but without the danger.

Safe for mother and baby

Over three decades of extensive studies have shown that ultrasound has not caused fetal or maternal harm. 3D/4D ultrasound uses the same intensity of ultrasonic waves in a traditional 2D ultrasound which has become a normal procedure in all pregnancies.

The benefits

3D ultrasound plays a beneficial role for parents-to-be, the realistic surface of the face and expression of the developing fetus while it's still inside the womb can be an intense bonding experience that can be beneficial to the whole family. Today's 3D/4D ultrasound imaging allows you to feel closer to your unborn baby than ever before. This is as close as you can get to meet your baby face to face.

"Preserve the most memorable moments of your pregnancy."
